Makers of the Award-Winning Cascade Server content management software

Testimonials

"Cascade Server is a solution created with our institution in mind, with our resources in mind, and with a support group. We jumped on the bandwagon pretty quickly, because we saw a good solution for the problem that we had." - Indiana University School of Public and Environmental Affairs

"RSS feeds are a great way for us to stay in touch with our community. We are actively working to enhance our web presence and RSS feeds provide another mechanism for providing information to our community. Cascade Server makes it easy to manage content that is automatically published in multiple formats, like standard web pages and RSS feeds." - Cecelia Thomas MCG Health, Inc.

"Our selection of Cascade was influenced by both the core technology and the company support. We are impressed with the product's embrace of newer standards like XML/XSL, CSS, RSS, and SOAP." - David Wisniewski Brandeis University

"I tell everyone great things about the system and about the amazing customer service you guys have provided." - Casey Paquet Eckerd College

"It's making it very easy for non-technical people to dive in and keep their web content up to date." - Scott Crevier St. Norbert College

"Our website was designed to provide current and potential clients access to Silverpop's extensive knowledge capital. Having a state-of-the-art website that is friendly and easy to use is imperative for the growth of our business. Cascade Server allows us to effectively manage substantial amounts of online content, making it easy for clients to access the information they need." - Elaine O'Gorman Silverpop

"I'm confident that in Cascade Server, we've found the CMS solution we were looking for. Cascade has proven to be a great fit for us already, and I'm pleased we're finally in a position to approach key areas regarding participation in managing content on the site. We're looking forward to our continued work with Hannon Hill and the Cascade Server content management system. The customer experience with Hannon Hill from the very first phone call has been just a stellar experience." - Winston Churchill-Joell Sarah Lawrence College

"One thing that I really appreciate about Hannon Hill, is how they treat each customer as if they were their most important customer, and are quick to respond to concerns or feedback." - Nate Tanner University of Utah Medical Center
